BELGIANS FORCE GERMANS TO ASK FOR ARMISTICE

Kaiser's Army Renews Attack on the Belgian Forts This Morning Only to Meet Defeat and Disaster at Hands of Determined Defenders.

WHOLE BATTALION KILLED BY MINES

Twelve Hundred Wounded Are Picked Up—Forts Remain Intact and Belgians Confident—24-Hour Armistice Asked.

Liege—via London, Aug. 7.—The Tenth German Army Corps, reinforced by cavalry, attacked Liege last night. They crossed a zone which had been mined and the mines were exploded by the Belgians. A whole battalion of Germans was killed while twelve hundred wounded were picked up. Not a single fort has fallen into the hands of the Germans.

Six Germans, pretending to be English, made their way to the Governor's office this morning. They were killed. All reports of the fighting at Liege agree that the German infantry advances in masses holding to absolutely close order. This resulted in heavy casualties.

Brussels, Aug. 7.—News from Liege says that the fortress still holding out. It is being bombarded by heavy shells but is still undamaged, while the Belgian fire is wreaking havoc among the Germans. It is reported that the French forces are increasing from several directions. All the forts around Liege are reported as being intact.

Paris, August 7.—Official reports received here say the German troops have entered the Belgian city of Liege but have not been able to take the forts. Fighting of the most violent character took place in the streets. The Belgian troops have captured 27 German cannon.

London, August 7.—A dispatch from Brussels to the Exchange Telegraph Company today says the German troops attacking Liege have asked for an armistice of 24 hours.

JAPS ACTIVE AND WARLIKE

By Associated Press.
Tokio, Japan, Aug. 7.—The Reserve army officers have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for a possible mobilization. A flying squadron of seven cruisers has been organized with Prince Fushimi in command. The battleship squadron has been increased to eight vessels.

AMERICANS SAFE

Washington, August 7.—Charge Hubacher of the Swiss legation told Secretary Bryan Switzerland would today issue a proclamation of neutrality. The Charge stated that Americans pouring into Switzerland from France, Germany and Italy, and especially Vienna, were safe.

CRUISER IN U. S. PORT

San Francisco, August 7.—The British cruiser Rainbow, put in here today. Collector Davis sent out boarding officers to learn her intentions.

Under the neutrality laws she can take on only sufficient coal to make another port and she may not remain here more than 24 hours.

The Cavalry of Germany

The cavalry force of Germany, comprising approximately 100 regiments, numbers about 70,000 men. The private soldiers carry lances, which stand upright when the troopers are in saddle. A carbine is slung in a bucket beside the saddle.

25,000 DIE AT LIEGE

LONDON, AUGUST 7.—AN EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH COMPANY'S DISPATCH FROM BRUSSELS SAYS THE GERMAN TROOPS AT LIEGE ACKNOWLEDGED A LOSS OF 25,000 MEN. THE AGENCY SAYS THIS STATEMENT IS OFFICIAL. ANOTHER DISPATCH TO THE EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH COMPANY FROM BRUSSELS SAYS A FRENCH ARMY HAS NOW ENTERED BELGIUM AND HAS ADVANCED WELL INTO THE COUNTRY.

ENGLISH EYES ON FOODSTUFFS

By Associated Press.
London, August 7.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George informed the House of Commons that the government was considering the question of taking over the harvest throughout the British Isles.

ARRANGEMENTS NOT YET MADE

By Associated Press.
Washington, August 7.—Arrangements for the quiet funeral of Mrs. Wilson desired by the President and his family have not been made pending the arrival of Professor Stockton Axson, of Princeton university, who is on his way to Washington from Pendleton, Oregon.

Mrs. Wilson's body was kept today in the room where she died, in the southwest corner of the White House on the second floor, overlooking the Potomac. The President went into the room at midnight last night and again several times today and sat alone. No one disturbed him. Other members of the family went in from time to time, but even intimate friends were kept out. Every effort was made by his friends to divert the President's mind from his grief. Flowers began to arrive at the White House early and continued throughout the day. They were sent by people from all walks of life. Among messages of sympathy were those of Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell and of clergymen of all denominations and organizations of many kinds.

LACKS CONFIRMATION

By Associated Press.
Washington, August 7.—The State Department has no reports of the taking of Warsaw by the Germans. Officials attributed a rumor to that effect to an earlier dispatch which said the Russian general staff had decided not to defend the city.

MEXICO CITY IS IN PANIC

Washington, August 7.—General Carranza and Provisional President Carbajal have failed to agree on transferring power in Mexico and trouble is expected in Mexico City where the population is reported panic stricken. Constitutional forces are marching on the capital.

HOMeward BOUND

London, Aug. 7.—The White Star liner Celtic left Liverpool with nearly 2,000 passengers, of whom 1,000 are in the steerage. Latest advices are to the effect that it will take five days for Americans to be able to leave Switzerland and other points on the continent and arrive in England.

PRINCE WILL FIGHT

London, Aug. 7.—It is officially announced that the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne, has received a commission in the Grenadier Guards, and it is expected he will join his regiment at once and will accompany it for active service. His brother, Prince Albert, is aboard the Collingwood with the battle fleet in the North sea.

Warring Nations Have Our Offer

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 7.—RECEIPT OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S OFFER OF GOOD OFFICES HAS BEEN ACKNOWLEDGED BY SOME OF THE WARRING NATIONS IN EUROPE BUT NONE OF THE RESPONSES CONSTITUTE ANYTHING IN THE NATURE OF A REPLY. OFFICIALS DO NOT KNOW WHETHER IT HAS BEEN RECEIVED IN GERMANY.

WAR BULLETINS

Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the British Admiralty, declared in the House of Commons there had not been any fighting or losses other than had been announced officially. This statement ensued on reports of a naval battle between German and British ships received from several sources, but the Admiralty refused information.

It was regarded as significant that the fishing fleets on the east coast of England were given permission to go out and fish.

Complete silence reigns as to military movements in both Germany and France, and it is assumed both armies are concentrating for decisive battles. No hint as to where they will come into contact has been given.

Liege, Belgium, was again attacked by German troops last night but was still holding out. The report of a German reverse there was denied in a dispatch from Berlin.

The German cruisers, Goeben and Breslau, obliged, owing to Italian neutrality, to leave San Salvatore, Sicily, have gone out to meet the British fleet. The commanders are said to have handed their wills to the German consul before departure.

A London newspaper report says the German Crown Prince has been seriously injured by an unidentified assailant.

A Finn sea captain on arriving at Stockholm reported the Russian navy bottled up at Helsingfors and the Russian ports of Libau and Reval to be burning after an attack by German vessels. No confirmation.

Many German merchant vessels were brought in to English ports today by British cruisers. The Holland-Lloyd steamer, Tubantia, with $2,500,000 in gold, from South America for the German bank in London, was also brought in.

French warships also captured several German merchant ships.

The French Premier appealed to the women of France to gather the wheat and wine crops.

Tokio reports the German squadron at Tsing Tau, China, hemmed in by the British war vessels.

The British tank steamer, San Wilfredo, is reported destroyed by a mine off Cuxhaven, Germany, and the British steamer, Kragforth, was beached near Constantinople after contact with a mine.

Stories of discourtesy in Germany to the Dowager Empress of Russia are declared false by the German Foreign Office.

UNCLE SAM TAKES HAND

By Associated Press.
Washington, August 7.—Foreign merchant ships being converted for war purposes or carrying foreign reservists will not be permitted to clear from ports of the United States.

PRINCE ASSAULTED

By Associated Press.
London, Aug. 7.—The Standard says it has heard from a reliable source that the German Crown Prince has been seriously injured by an unidentified assailant who, after inflicting grave wounds, escaped.

BREAK RECORDS IN ENLISTMENT

By Associated Press.

London, August 7.—The response to Field Marshal Kitchener's appeal for recruits for the British army surpasses anything in the memory of British military men. Huge crowds of all ages and all stations of life, silk-hatted men and poorly clothed laborers, stood in long lines all day in front of the recruiting stations awaiting their turn to go before the medical officers. Dr. Hans Plehn, correspondent of the German Telegraphic News Agency who had been placed under arrest, was released today after he had satisfied the police he was not a spy. He has decided to return to Germany. With the object of coordinating the system of giving assistance to traveling Americans and restoring order among the somewhat chaotic conditions an authoritative committee of American residents in London was formed today under official auspices.

ITALY DEFIES KAISER

By Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 7.—An Italian newspaper of this city says today that it has received a cable from Rome saying that it has been officially announced that Italy's answer to the German ultimatum was that Italy would remain neutral.

By Associated Press.

Messina, Sicily, Aug. 7.—The German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, sailed out of San Salvatore this morning under full steam with decks cleared for action in expectation of meeting the British fleet. The captains are said to have left their wills and personal property with the German Consul.

ABANDON ATTACK?

By Associated Press.

Brussels—via London, Aug. 7.—It is reported that the attacks on the Liege forts has been abandoned after a three days encounter. The German division has retired to the left of the River Meuse.

Le Peuple says the bombardment of Liege had caused six or seven fires in the city up to 7 o'clock last evening. The heaviest firing occurred yesterday afternoon. German officers then came to the city with a white flag and demanded the surrender of the place. They received a negative reply and the bombardment was resumed at 6 o'clock. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Belgium.

FRENCH VICTORIOUS

By Associated Press.

Paris, Aug. 7.—The Minister of War announces that French troops have occupied two small German towns in Alsace-Lorraine, just over the border.

DEFEAT KAISER ON SEA

English Warships Drive German Fleets to Seek Safety Near Coast of Holland, After Engaging Them on the High Seas.

SEEK HAVEN IN EAST NORTH SEA

Feeling Secure the British Fishing Schooners Begin Business, While Lords of the Sea Menace German Vessels—Other War News.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 7.—The Admiralty announces that British coastwise shipping on the east coast is now safe because the British fleet has engaged the Germans on the high seas and the German fleet is now being chased toward the coast of Holland.

Travelers returning from the North Sea today reported that they had seen a German destroyer fleeing from two British cruisers. They believed the German ship to be on fire. Latest reports today say that the British and German fleets were in a heavy battle off the South Dogger Banks. It is now believed that the German fleet is completely hemmed in in the eastern side of the North Sea.

Stockholm, Aug. 7.—A Finnish sea captain who has arrived here reports that the Russian navy is bottled up at Helsingfors while Reval and Libau have been taken by the Germans after a furious battle and are burning. The report is not credited by the best informed here.

London, Aug. 7.—Among those killed when the British cruiser, Anthon, was sunk by a mine yesterday, were twenty German prisoners of war. The German steamer Tubantia, with $2,500,000 in gold aboard was brought into Plymouth today by warships.

Rome, Aug. 7.—A newspaper here says that the Austro-Hungarian warship Taurus, has been driven into the harbor of Prendiesi, where she is leaking.

Stockholm, Aug. 7.—The captains of two Swedish steamers report that a Russian cruiser is ashore near Hangoe, Finland.

LYNCH NEGROES

By Associated Press.

Monroe, La., August 7.—Preston Griffin and Charles Hall, negroes, were taken from the local city hall tower early today and hanged by a mob. Less than 24 hours before, Henry Holmes was lynched near here in connection with the same crime.

CAMP MEETING

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, August 7.—Plans have been completed for holding of the annual camp-meeting and business session of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists here, August 13 to 23. Sixty-five churches located in different cities will be represented by 1,000 members, while the daily attendance will be considerably larger. The encampment will be pitched on the campus of Mount Vernon Academy, a denominational institution.

Two Forts at Liege Reduced By Kaiser's Artillery.

BELGIANS MAKE BOLD STAND

Third Fortification Remains Intact and Intrenchments Are Being Thrown Up to Further
Resist Advance of German Army.

London, Aug. 7.—The British fleet has engaged the German fleet on the high seas. The British warships are reported to be driving the Germans
towards the Dutch coast.

There are persistent circumstantial reports of a naval fight in the North sea which suggest that the rumor has a basis of truth. Incoming fishing boats brought the first cohesive stories of fighting. The fishermen said they had seen a lively scrap between two destroyers. After that there was a succession of reports from east coast towns and that orders had been issued for the preparation of hospitals.

A ship owner at Whitby has announced that he has been informed that a great battle has been fought
and nineteen German warships have been sunk. The people of Hull, Harwich and Grimsby are convinced of the truth of this reported battle and
have been straining their eyes seaward, but have seen nothing.

There is great excitement all along the east coast. Kirkwall reports tell of prolonged firing to the eastward.
The Orkneys and Kirkcally make similar reports and say that the firing appeared to be off the Firth of Forth. Official confirmation of these reports, however, is entirely lacking.

BATTLE RAGES AROUND LIEGE

Paris, Aug. 7.—Official announcement is made that the battle continues to rage around Liege. The German shell fire has reduced two of the Liege forts, but the Belgians continue
to resist with untiring energy.

The Germans were able to use their light siege guns against the forts of Liege, which are thirty years
old. Two of them were silenced and the German columns broke through.
The other forts are holding out. The

KAISER CALLS HIS SUBJECTS

Berlin, via London, Aug. 7.—The emperor has issued an order to the German army and navy in which he
says:

"After forty-three years of peace I call upon all Germans capable of bearing arms. We have to defend our most sacred possessions in fatherland and home against the reckless assault of enemies on all sides of us.

"That means hard fighting. I am confident that the ancient warlike
spirit still lives in the German people—that powerful, warlike spirit which attacks the enemy wherever it finds him, regardless of cost, and
which in the past has been the dread
and terror of our enemies.

"I have confidence in you, German soldiers—in each and all of you. I know, if needed, each and all of you
would die like heroes.

"Remember our great and glorious

Belgians are making a determined resistance before the city.

The situation at Liege, according to the latest dispatches, was as follows:

It seemed certain that the fortifications could not stop the German army, and the only question was whether its advance could be delayed. The fortifications already had held it for thirty-six hours, and the fierce struggle the Germans had made
and would still have to make, it was believed, would compel them to pause
and revictual.

carrying Liege it will find itself confronted by an entrenched camp at Namur, at which the Belgians are preparing to make a stand as fierce as
that at Liege.

The Belgian army was brilliantly fulfilling its task of delaying the German advance and it appeared certain
the German staff's plan of campaign
in Belgium would be hindered by the obstinate stand of the Belgians.

A French mine ship captured and
towed into Cherbourg a 5,000 ton
German steamer.

A slight skirmish occurred between
German and French troops at Norry-
Le-See, in Meurthe-et-Moselle. The Germans suffered a few casualties,
but there was no loss on the French
side.

Latest estimates of the German casualties run as high as 8,000 men.
The invaders also are said to have lost a large number of guns.

FAYETTE HORSES TAKING ON FORM

Fayette horses have been making quite creditable showing at the various race meets of the neighboring county fairs during the past few days. Jessie J., the gray pacing mare formerly owned by George Weaver, took fourth money in the slow pace at Xenia Thursday. She finished second in the first heat and was separately timed at 2:10 3/4. Jos-sie J. was sold by Mr. Weaver Wednesday to W. J. Galvin of Jamestown.

Leola McKinney, owned by C. W.
Mark, of this city, finished second in
all three heats of the trotting class
at Xenia Thursday making her best circuit in 2:22 3/4. Sunday Johnson, owned by C. H. Richards, of Washington C. H., won the 2:30 pace at Hillsboro Wednesday and made a record of 2:16 3/4. Harry D. Taylor's

Georgia Fly took second in the slow
trot at Hillsboro Wednesday.

On the entry lists of all nearby
county fairs are the names of Fayette horses as well as almost everywhere they are race meets to be found. Several Fayette equines will perform in the meets at Piketon and Leesburg next week.

Old Flower Favorites Returning

The old-fashioned flowers, the old standbys that came along year in and year out, to brighten the home and the garden before the professional florist raised and marketed the exquisitely beautiful and frail plants that now excite the wonder and strain the purse strings, are returning to popular favor. Each year close observers will see the number of hollyhocks, marigolds, gladiolas, perriwikles, zinnias, sunflowers and the like increasing in the yards of the poorer classes and in the spacious grounds of the rich. Folks are beginning to realize that man's older friends among the flowers are better able to stand the drought, the winds and the deluge, as one or the other extreme comes along, in the great out-of-door weather. Nature constructed these sturdy flowers along lines which enable them to "go it alone" to take care of themselves in extremes of weather and in the fight with the insects. They do not require the care and attention that the plants man has refined by cultivation from the original stock, require. The family can forget for a night or two to water the flowers, can be too busy once in a while to pull the encroaching grass and weeds from about the roots of these sturdy old flowers of nature and they will grow and bloom just the same. These old-time flowers lost in popular favor because they were too self-reliant, too independent and so abundantly able to take care of themselves that they grew everywhere and anywhere. They were in respect of persons or gardens—quite Democratic, if you please—with the result that they were soon regarded as too common and not difficult enough to possess. The original cost was not enough, the work of caring for them was not burdensome enough, and the chance of failure to have success in the flower garden was too remote to justify retaining the old-timers in popular favor. After being passed by now for years they are returning to popular favor, people are tired out wasting time and money and effort trying to raise tender flowers out of doors which have about one chance in five of getting through the season successfully in this climate. People have learned that nature's old-time flowers do better and look better out-of-doors—they are more in harmony with nature than the hot house creations. Nature knows better after all what is more becoming to her than man does. Save the delicate posies for the hot houses but in the ground out-of-doors where nature rules, if nature is allowed to fashion the flowers, better success will mark the efforts of man to beautify the yards. It is fine to see the radiant bloom of the old-time favorites in all the flower gardens both large and small.

BOX OF SMILES.
If I know where the box of smiles was kept,
No matter how large the key
Or strong the bolt, I would try so hard,
"Twould open, I know, for me;
Then over the land and the sea broadcast,
I'd scatter the smiles to play,
That the children's faces might hold them fast
For many and many a day.
"If I knew of a box that was large enough
To hold all the frowns I meet,
I would like to gather them every one,
From nursery, school, and street;
Then folding and holding, I'd pack them in,
And, turning the monster key,
I'd hire a giant to drop the box
To the depths of the deepest sea.

WORTHY ASPIRANT FOR NOMINATION

We take advantage of this opportunity to call upon the Republican voters of Fayette county to support in the primary election the candidacy of Henry W. Jones for sheriff, a young man, self made, well known and universally respected—who has served as sealer of weights and measures since this important office was established and whose efficient record, kind and courteous handling of the difficult duties involved, has been the pride of scale owners and consumers alike.
In seeking promotion to the office of sheriff of Fayette county, Henry W. Jones is fully justified and we bespeak for him an administration at once creditable and satisfactory to an unusual degree, embodying at all times the same faithful service that has marked and distinguished his conduct of the office of sealer of weights and measures.
Mr. Jones is a native of Jasper township, having been born at Milledgeville August 12, 1872. He was left an orphan at the age of 7 months and was early thrown upon his own resources to earn his living and make his way in the world, which he did with commendable will. Mr. Jones was educated in the Creamer school near Spring Grove church and in Milledgeville schools. He grew into conscientious manhood, slow to anger, kind hearted, charitable and patient, with never a disparaging word against his fellow man. In this race Mr. Jones seeks the Republican nomination for sheriff on the same broad platform on which he has lived since his youth, treating every man with fairness and the respect he deserves, and uttering no cowardly word calculated to injure an opponent.
Every voter is entitled to know the man for whom he votes, which is the reason this story is told. Henry W. Jones will bear acquaintance and investigation. The more he is known the greater his support.
A vote for him for sheriff will not be misplaced, but will assist him to a well merited elevation and will approve of his exceedingly valuable pioneer labors as sealer of weights and measures in this county.
The duties of the position he now holds have been discharged without fear or favor and to the very best of his ability and he assures the voters of his party and the citizens of the whole county that, if he is so fortunate as to be nominated and elected to the office to which he aspires, he will uphold the laws of the land and exercise every energy at his command to properly execute the duties of that high office.
The primary election will be held next Tuesday and every voter in the county has a solemn duty to perform that day. Every man of legal age owes it to his country to participate and register his choice at the polls. In no other way can the will of the people be ascertained. Well wishes are splendid in their way, and Mr. Jones and his close friends will appreciate fully all helpful words and support given in his behalf, but on the day of election he needs votes. Come out and bring your friends that day, and make certain that Henry W. Jones wins the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Examination of Fayette County

JULY 1912 TO JAN. 1914.
BY E. K. PARRETT, STATE EXAMINER.
A. E. HENKLE HAS SERVED AS AUDITOR DURING THE PERIOD OF THIS EXAMINATION.
RECORDS AND FILES
All records required to be kept by this office are kept in a MOST EXCELLENT MANNER, the greater portion being typewritten.
The Commissioner's journal, kept by the Auditor as clerk of that Board, IS EXCEPTIONALLY WELL KEPT, the subject matter set out in detail, and each action taken by the Commissioners indicated by proper headings in red, making a search of the records easy.
The files of all vouchers and other documents in the hands of the auditor are well kept and all properly docketed, and numbered to correspond with warrants issued.
SETTLEMENTS.
The settlements for the tax years 1911 and 1912 were handled by your examiners.
The several settlement sheets were checked and verified and the distributions followed forward into the ledger account of the taxing districts.
This department of the Auditor's work was found to be PRACTICALLY PERFECT, it being the practice in this office to recheck, verify, and PROVE EVERY STEP in the work from the making up of the Duplicate to the final distribution of the funds.
The highest commendation is due Auditor HENKLE and his efficient office force for their excellent work.
The above is from the State Examiner's report, and is offered to you for your consideration.
I am asking for your support at the Primary Election, August 11, 1914, for RENOMINATION to the Office of County Auditor.
I am grateful for your past support and trust that my services will merit a renomination and election.
Yours very truly,
AND A. E. HENKLE.

ICE COMPANY SUES THE WATER COMPANY

A suit of more than passing interest at the present time is that of the Washington Ice Company against the Washington Water Company, asking injunction and equitable relief. The suit was filed in Common Pleas court late Thursday evening, and is the outgrowth of the refusal of the Washington Water Company to furnish the Washington Ice Company with water. Rankin and Rankin represent the plaintiff.

After the refusal of the Water company had been fully established, the Ice Company sought relief in the courts.

The plaintiff states that the defendant has threatened to shut off the water which plaintiff claims the defendant is under contract to furnish, and that the defendant would, unless restrained, shut off the water. Plaintiff claims that under the defendant's contract with the city that plaintiff is entitled to an abundance of water so long as payment is made for same, and that the defendant has violated its contract with the city.

The restraining order asked by plaintiff was granted by Judge Carpenter, and the case will later be heard upon its merits.

The plaintiff charged that under a contract with the Water Company

the plaintiff had been using water for years, and that unless the supply was continued that it would seriously handicap the Ice company in obtaining water for the engines of the company and for other uses.

The action is based under sections eight and eleven of the Water company's contract with the city. These sections read in part:

"Section 8. To furnish an abundant supply of water to the party of the first part, and the inhabitants of said corporation for the purpose herein expressed, at all times during the continuance of this contract."

Section 11.—To furnish an abundant supply of water in accordance Article 8 hereof, to private consumers, residing or having places of business or manufacture along any of the said pipe lines, or contiguous thereto, at all times during the continuance of this contract, etc."

The Water company is said to have taken steps to stop furnishing the Ice company with water until the threatened water famine is alleviated. The Ice company, it is stated, through Manager Baer, had promised to use as little water as possible if the water connection was not disturbed by the Water Company. The action was taken after the meter had been removed by the Water Company.

JUNIOR SECRETARY MAY BE EMPLOYED BY BOARD

The Board of Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. held a long session Thursday night and while the greater part of the developments have not been made public it is understood that a number of improvements and some repairing is contemplated.

It is said that the most important feature of the meeting was the consideration of the advisability of adding to the official corps of the institution, a junior secretary, whose duties will be to look after the junior department and to co-operate with General Secretary Patton in bringing the association work to a relative basis. Formerly there has been no junior department and this fact has caused no little confusion. Under the suggested system the juniors and seniors will be separated. They will have different parts of the building for their reading and recreation and will in no way come in contact with each other. The mingling of the juniors and seniors hitherto has given rise to much confusion. This fact has been realized long ago by institutions in other nearby cities, where the system of separate departments and department heads has been successfully maintained for years. A committee was appointed by the board to go over this matter carefully and to report at an early date.

With the birth of this new speculation naturally arises some little discussion as to who might be chosen to fill the important position as head of the new department, should it be created, and foremost among those mentioned is the name of Mr. B. F. Toops, principal of the Cherry Hill school, who has been acting general secretary in the interim between the resignation of former Secretary Ray F. Zaner and the succession of Mr. Walter Patton a few days ago. It is thought that in case the office is established a strong effort will be made to secure Mr. Toops for this post. Mr. Toops is a young man but one of much experience among the youngsters, as his present position will testify.

Other things that were decided by the board was the replenishing of the magazine department of the reading room, and the purchase of towels and sundry articles of need.

CARS MAY YET BE PUT ON ROAD

The D. T. & I. has not abandoned the plan of installing motor cars on the road, as announced several months ago.

The cars sent from the factory in New Jersey proved wholly unfit for the kind of service desired, and the road decided to obtain larger and stronger cars.

The cars sent were too small and the motor was not strong enough. The kind originally considered had gasoline for fuel and was capable of carrying a heavy load at high speed for a great many miles.

CARRIERS GET SALARY BOOST

All rural carriers in Fayette county are rejoicing over an increase in salary which recently went into effect and as a result of the new order four of the rural carriers out of this city are now drawing the limit of $1200 per annum, while most of the others are drawing near that amount.

Under the new order all carriers covering 24 mile routes and handling 400 pieces of mail daily, receive $1,200 per annum for eight hours per day. Fayette county carriers are fortunate in handling the quantity of mail they do, as many adjoining county carriers will not be able to reach the $1200 limit.

As a result of the new order the carriers out of this city draw salaries as follows:

Nos. 1, 3, 4, 7, $1200; Nos. 2 and 5, $1188; No. 6, $1164; No. 8, $1176; No. 9, $1128; No. 10, $1068.

HAGLER REUNION OF NOTABLE PLEASURE

One of the oldest of Fayette county's families, with a large connection, and bound together by family ties and affections almost clannish in character, the Hagler reunion held Thursday proved one of pre-eminent pleasure and interest.

The beautiful Howat grove was an ideal place for the gathering and by the noon hour over a hundred had assembled, coming from Boston, Mass., from Columbus, Loveland, Wilmington, Xenia, Jamestown and all over this county. The oldest member of the family was Mr. Clemmens, of Jamestown, ninety-four years of age, and the little four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. H. Ballard had the distinction of being the youngest.

It was purely a social day, with that exchange of reminiscences and experiences and that bond of sympathetic interests only possible to such a gathering.

Adjectives fail to do justice to the sumptuous picnic dinner that weighted down the tables and left them with ample provision for another hundred.

Before the breaking up of the reunion photographer Campbell took the entire group.

MARRIED 34 YEARS DIVORCE IS ASKED

Nannie C. Smith against J. W. Smith is the style of a divorce suit filed in Common Pleas court late Thursday afternoon.

The plaintiff, who is represented by Post & Reid, states that she married the defendant September 30, 1880, and have two children. Gross neglect of duty is charged by the plaintiff, who claims that the defendant for more than three years past has failed to provide common necessities of life.

On July 17, 1914, the defendant left the plaintiff, according to the petition. Charges of extreme cruelty and threats of personal violence against herself and children, also are made by the plaintiff, who asks for divorce and other relief.

SOCIETY PICNIC AT COUNTRY HOME

No event in the Ladies' Missionary society of the First Baptist church has been more enjoyable than the basket dinner at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Browning and daughter, Miss Fannie, Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty members of the society drove out with hampers filled with delicacies for a picnic spread and Mrs. Browning and daughter added generously to the hampers.

The climax to the feast came when Miss Browning brought out an angel food cake, proving anew her skill in this difficult branch of cake baking.

After a short business session the afternoon was devoted entirely to social pleasure.

The society left full of enthusiasm for the delightful day and appreciation of the Browning hospitality.

AGITATION FOR DREDGING CREEK THROUGHOUT COUNTY

present plans are carried out the work of dredging Paint creek to deepening the channel throughout the county may be taken up within the next year, earlier, and when finished the channel will be of uniform depth, so that no stagnant pools will form, and the channel will be unobstructed at any point, and the flood danger reduced to the minimum.

It is stated that within a short time the plan of dredging the creek will be taken up with the county commissioners, not only of this county, but of adjoining counties where the stream touches.

Under the new flood legislation a petition signed by 50 persons owning property along the banks of a stream may be presented to the commissioners, and it will then be necessary to proceed with the work of clearing the channel.

The agitators back of the movement claim that by the dredging, process thousands of loads of choice gravel would thus be obtained for road building purposes in the county, and that the gravel would pay much of the cost of cleaning out the creek.

The movement originates in this city, it is said, and if the creek is dredged, the channel through the city will be free from obstruction, and no stagnant pools will exist.

On one hand it is claimed that if the channel is deepened so that no pools exist, that the creek must either flow or, in dry weather, be completely dry.

If the plan is carried out on as large a scale as originally planned, more than one stream may be included in the cleaning out process.

Mrs. Ellen Axson Wilson Was Woman of Many Attainments and Took Active Interest in Slum Work at National Capital—President and Three Daughters Prostrated by Bereavement.

Washington, Aug. 7.—With President Wilson and her three daughters at her bedside, Mrs. Ellen Axson Wilson, wife of the president and "first lady of the land," died at the White House.

The president was prostrated. His three bereaved daughters were also broken with grief. Secretary Tumulty announced the death of Mrs. Wilson.

Death resulted from brights disease, from which she had been a sufferer since she came to the White House. Recently this had been aggravated by a general nervous breakdown, which began when she was injured by a fall on the marble floor of the White House in February and was accelerated by the strenuous social season and activity in social settlement work and other humanitarian endeavors.

Shortly before her death Mrs. Wilson was cheered by the announcement that the senate had passed the Johnson bill abolishing slums in the capital, for which she had worked zealously last fall.

She had told the president she believed she could go more cheerfully if she knew the bill was passed. The president through Secretary Tumulty communicated Mrs. Wilson's wish to congress, and the task of enacting the bill with extraordinary haste was undertaken. As soon as the president learned of the passage of the bill by the senate he hastened to carry the news to the sick room.

Some time after this, when the president was absent from the sick room for a few minutes, Mrs. Wilson sent for Dr. Cary T. Grayson and said to him:

Solicitous For Husband.
"Doctor, if I go away, promise me you will take good care of my husband."

It was her last speech of many words. In a few minutes she sank into a stupor and during the afternoon rallied only enough strength to speak in monosyllables.

Mrs. Wilson was Ellen Louise Axson, the daughter of the Rev. Samuel Axson and Margaret Jane (Poit) Axson. She was born at Savannah, Ga., and was educated at the Woman's college at Rome, Ga., and later studied at the Art Students' league in New York.

Mrs. Wilson was married to Woodrow Wilson on June 24, 1885, at her home in Savannah, Ga.

old home in Savannah. Her parents were dead at the time, but she went back to Savannah to be married for sentimental reasons. Mr. Wilson courted Miss Axson while she was at Rome, Ga., where she was known as one of the most beautiful women of the south. Mrs. Wilson sprang from a long line of Presbyterian preachers, who had lived in the south. Her paternal grandfather was a distinguished clergyman in Savannah and her grandfather on her mother's side was the Rev. Nathan Hoyt, for many years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Athens, Ga. Her father was pastor of a church at Rome, Ga., when Mr. Wilson won her hand. Mr. Wilson was at that time practicing law in Atlanta, Ga. He escorted Miss Axson the first evening they met and had seen her only eleven times when they became engaged.

The year they were married Mr. Wilson accepted a professorship of history and political economy at Bryn Mawr college, where as the wife of the young educator Mrs. Wilson quickly attracted attention by her ready wit and her faculty for charming entertainments. Mrs. Wilson's brother, Stockton Axson, is a professor of English history in Princeton university. The only other relatives of Mrs. Wilson who are living are the children of Randolph Axson, her father's brother. Of these B. Palmer Axson is living in Savannah, Randolph J. K. Axson and Lella and Carrie Bell Axson in Atlanta, and Mrs. Legare Walker in Summerville, S. C.

After her marriage Mrs. Wilson divided her time between household duties and painting, an art which she had developed at the Art Students' league in New York city. In painting Mrs. Wilson showed considerable skill, producing several canvasses which have been put on exhibition in New York city and elsewhere.

While not an avowed suffragette, Mrs. Wilson thoroughly believed that a higher destiny awaits women.

Soon after her appearance in Washington Mrs. Wilson became actively interested in the welfare movement in that city and made personal excursions to the slums and alleys of the national capital in an effort to gain first hand information and to promote reforms. She was greatly interested too in the conditions under which young women worked in the government departments.

Mrs. Wilson took a keen pleasure in the White House gardens. She planned them and laid them out herself, and it is a matter of daily comment to persons familiar with Washington that these gardens never looked as beautiful as they do today.

Mrs. Wilson was honorary president of the Southern Industrial Educational society, of the Woman's National Civic association and many other societies. She was a member of the Association of Women Painters and Sculptors and has exhibited landscape paintings in the National academy, New York, and the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts and at the Art Institute at Chicago.

She leaves beside her husband three daughters, Margaret, who from now on will be the mistress of the White House; Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. Frances Bowes Sayre.

The only other wife of a president to die in the White House was Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, who passed away in 1891.

The president, without sleep for more than thirty-six hours and weighed down by the heavy burdens growing out of the European war, had been under a tremendous strain. He has borne up bravely.

TENNESSEE OFF WITH MILLIONS IN BRIGHT GOLD

New York, Aug. 7.—The armored cruiser Tennessee, carrying about $5,500,000 for the relief of stranded Americans, steamed away from Tompkinsville. At the last minute messages were going aboard the cruiser to Captain Decker and to Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Breckinridge, the import of which was not revealed. Between the Tennessee and the Florida, lying a half mile away, the Adonis was twirling signals even after the traveler had started down the bay.

The bankers of the city did not send the $8,000,000 arranged for, for two reasons, it was said. One was that arrangements for cable transfer of money via France and England would ease the situation for Americans with letters of credit in the two capitals, and the other was that the insurance men insisted on a premium of one-half of 1 per cent for ordinary sea risks.

HARBORS MINED

Rome, Aug. 7.—News has been received here to the effect that the Austrian harbors of Pola and Trieste are mined.

An Austrian fleet is cruising in the Adriatic and is reported to be trying to make a neutral port to escape British warships.

The people of Trieste are panic-stricken, expecting that the port will be bombarded.

PRINCE CAPTURED

Copenhagen, Aug. 7.—Prince Aage, nephew of King Christian of Denmark, was arrested as a spy by German troops on the frontier.

ENGLISH CRUISER VICTIM OF MINE

Amphion Sinks on Dutch Coast.

131 LIVES ARE LOST

Captain and 151 Members of Crew Rescued.

London, Aug. 7.—The British cruiser Amphion was sunk by striking a mine on the coast of Holland and 131 lives were lost. The admiralty made the following announcement:

"The Amphion sank after striking a mine. Paymaster Gedge and 130 men were lost. The captain and 16 officers and 135 men were saved."

Captain Fox, who was in command of the Amphion, was a midshipman on board the British warship Callope, the only warship which escaped destruction in the terrific Samoa tornado of 1889.

A previous report said that the German mine layer, Koenigin Luise, probably had placed some mines before she was sunk by the British torpedo boat Lance.

The British torpedo boat destroyer Lance was the hero of the first naval engagement in the present war, sinking the Hamburg-American line steamer Koenigin Luise, which had been fitted out as a mine layer.

The Lance fired only four shots. The first destroyed the bridge of the steamer, the third and fourth tore away the stern, and the Koenigin Luise sank in six minutes.

The Lance rescued twenty-eight of the German crew. Several were wounded. Two of them each lost an arm and four others each had a leg shot away. None of the Lance's crew was injured.

The Koenigin Luise was caught laying mines some sixty miles from Harwich.

RUSSIAN NAVY WOEFULLY WEAK

Only Four Battleships Capable of Effective Work.

OTHERS ARE OBSOLETE.

Handicapped Also by Inexperienced Sailors—Has Never Recovered From Japanese War—Now Building Many New Ships in All Classes—Armament Is Poor.

EVER since the disastrous war with Japan the Russian navy has been considered to be of little value by the other powers. Until recently very little was done toward building up the sea defenses of the czar's empire, but at the present time there are four super-dreadnoughts building, seven dreadnoughts, eight armored cruisers, six cruisers, forty-five destroyers and eighteen submarines, a total of eighty-eight vessels in course of construction, or almost twice as many as any other country has planned.

Ships Ready For Use.

The actual number of boats now in readiness for use is as follows:

Super-Dreadnoughts	0
Dreadnoughts	0
Other battleships	13
Armored cruisers	8
Cruisers	5
Destroyers	56
Torpedo boats	42
Submarines	31
Total	156

The boats are manned by 52,400 sailors, the majority of whom are inexperienced landsmen who know very little of present day naval warfare. Russia has a very large reserve list, which is drawn as follows:

First—All the reservists of twenty-three whole governments and of seventy-one districts in fourteen other governments.

THE CZAR, COMMANDER OF RUSSIA'S ARMY.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ON THE MARCH.

Second.—Part of the reservists of nine districts of four governments.

Third.—The naval reservists in sixty-four districts of twelve Russian governments and one Finnish government.

Fourth.—The time expired Cossacks of the territories of Don, Kuban, Terek, Astrakhan, Orenburg and Ural.

Fifth.—A corresponding number of reservist officers of the medical and veterinary services, in addition to needful horses, wagons and transport services in the governments and districts thus mobilized.

Guns of the Navy.

The standard guns in the Russian fleet are as follows:

The twelve inch of 40 calibers; weight, fifty-nine tons; muzzle velocity, 2,500 foot seconds; muzzle energy, 32,000 foot tons. This piece has a nominal penetration of fifteen and one-half inches Krupp cemented at 3,000 yards with capped A. P. shell, the same as that of the United States Mark III ten inch, built for the Washington class. It is mounted in the old battleship Czarévitch. For the Borodino class a sixty-four ton twelve inch has been designed, but it is doubtful whether it exists as yet. It has the same velocity (service), but fires a 1,200 pound projectile instead of a 732 pound one, and it has a correspondingly increased energy. The nominal velocity is 3,000 foot seconds.

The Poltava Class.

The Poltava class, the Sissoi Veliky and all other battleships carrying twelve inch guns, down to and including the Sinoe, carry a 35 caliber twelve inch gun. Its weight is fifty-six tons; its initial velocity, 1,942 foot second (service); energy, 19,200 foot tons; shell, 732 pounds. It is, of course, an old type gun. Its penetration is for a twelve inch gun very small. The velocity is poor, and the piece is considerably inferior to the twelve inch guns of other powers. The rate of fire of this piece is slow.

A more powerful piece and a better gun is the ten inch of 45 caliber, carried by the Peresviet class and the Apraksin and Rostislav.

The Gangut Class.

The only really effective boats now in service are the four battleships of the Gangut class. They are the Gangut, Sevastopol, Petropavlovsk and Poltava. These boats are 590 feet long and have a displacement of 23,000 tons. The armament is as follows: Twelve 12 inch guns in pairs in six turrets, sixteen 4.7 inch 50 caliber guns, eight machine guns. Torpedo tubes, four submerged, one on either beam and one forward and one aft.

The next class of battleships are very much smaller, poorly armed and equipped and generally inefficient and ineffective. In the next class are some of the boats which saw service in the Japanese war and have been raised, done over and slightly modernized. The fact that these boats were in service nearly ten years ago and are still being used shows the demoralized condition of the Russian navy. One of the interesting ships in the Baltic fleet is the Czarévitch, which escaped from the Japanese fleet at Port Arthur by running into a Chinese port, from which she was released after the Russo-Japanese war was over. Rear Admiral Witthoff, in command of the Russian fleet, was killed by a Japanese shell which struck the bridge of the Czarévitch. During the early part of the fight the main fire of the Japanese was centered on the Czarévitch.

FARM RESIDENCE

BURNED TO GROUND

Early this afternoon the Simon Hidy farm house, occupied by John Butz, on the Sugar Creek road, burned to the ground and also an automobile shed nearby.

The farm residence was one of the handsomest in that section and beautifully located on a hill overlooking the creek. The barn and other outbuildings were saved.

Mr. Butz was away from home, and his wife discovered the flames bursting from the roof. Having no telephone Mrs. Butz ran to the Henry Minton residence, the closest home to them, and through the Mintons the neighbors were summoned.

The fire had made such headway before help reached the house that it was impossible to save anything but a small part of the furniture and the outbuildings.

It is supposed that the fire caught from the stove.

Mr. Butz carried no insurance.

MANY THOUSANDS ATTEND FAYETTE-MADISON PICNIC

The annual Farmers' picnic of Fayette and Madison, was again carried through with tremendous success Thursday in the magnificent Reid grove at Bookwalter.

It is always an anticipated event of the year, and brings together a great gathering from all over both counties to enjoy a day of reunion and visiting together with the program and entertainment planned by the committee.

While the excessive heat and dust interfered somewhat with the attendance, the crowd was estimated at 5000 or more, the extent of the grove accommodating it so easily that it was hard to place an estimate.

In the morning there was a ball game, Bookwalter winning against Bloomingburg by a score of 3 to 0.

The noon hour was devoted to visiting and picnic dinners, notable among the dinners the one which is annually served by the wives of the committeemen to the speakers of the day, the band and fortunate friends. The dinner of Thursday more than equaled the established reputation of the past, being well worthy of Hon. S. D. Fess's encomium as a "wonderful repast."

Throughout the day the Milledgeville band entertained the people with splendid music and there was a second ball game in the afternoon.

The committeemen always aim to secure notable speakers for the afternoon's program and had been most fortunate in securing Hon. S. D. Fess, congressman of the Sixth district, and J. H. Newman, state librarian of Columbus.

Both addresses were listened to with absorbed interest.

Mr. Newman's address teemed with helpful suggestions for the ambitious boy and girl and the ready wit and spontaneity of the speaker entertained while it inspired.

People packed around the speaker's stand to hear the popular congressman. Introducing his speech with stories that delighted the crowd, Congressman Fess took up the United States as the great nation of achievements, the one country where nothing was needed but brain and brawn for accomplishment.

The interest of his address centered in his presentation of the war outlook. He said in part:

"It is almost a time to weep. All

Europe is standing today in a world conflict. If we can stay out we will be the happiest nation on earth, but to stay out will be a difficult problem.

"For the first time in the history of the world all the great powers of the world but the United States are engaged in conflict. Think of the hundreds of thousands of the poor of Europe who will die of starvation in six months.

"It is not the time to enter into the causes of the war, but the time for a Gladstone or a Lincoln to arise to lead the nations back to peace.

"The President of the United States has tendered his offices to bring this about. There could be but one outcome to such a war—annihilation—probably the annihilation of Germany.

"We fear the results, for Germany is today the center of the most advanced schools in the world. New discoveries in science are due to Germany. From Berlin university have come startling discoveries. Six of the most marvelous demonstrations I ever saw were perfected in this university.

"If the war isn't stopped it will be fought on the sea and under the sea, on the land and in the air.

"War is here! How long will it last? Experts say there is a possibility that it will last two years. Who is going to feed famished Europe?

"We can feed our nation without buying anything abroad. We are the richest nation on the globe. Great Britain would starve in 21 days if we did not step in."

Congressman Fess strongly advocated the building up of a merchant marine. "Today 92 per cent of the merchandise of the world is carried under a foreign flag and today the trade of the earth is swept from the sea by this war. In my judgment Uncle Sam ought to go to England, Germany, France and Russia, purchase their best steam ships, raise over them the American flag and carry the trade of this country. This is our opportunity to establish a great merchant marine to make our nation as great on sea as it is on land."

The speaker expressed himself as fearful of the measure just passed by which foreign vessels will be engaged in merchant marine service under the protection of the American flag. In the stress of battle he foresees a possibility that the American flag floating over an English ship may be fired upon by Germany, or vice versa, and the United States become involved.

The address of welcome was presented by President McChesney and recitations by Doris Klever and Glen Bland and a reading by Miss Lois Hankins added to the pleasure of the program.

NEW DISC PLOW JUST PATENTED

Pronounced by experts of the patent offices at Washington, D. C., as being the best they have ever seen in its line, and highly recommended by a large number of prominent farmers of this county, a one-horse disc cultivator, invented and patented by Phillip Foltz and William F. Nolze, of this city, promises to be a great success. The patent papers, arranged for by Mayor Cahill, were granted on July 13, 1914, and on Saturday the inventors were advised of the granting of the patent by Royal E. Burnam, patent attorney. In his communication the attorney predicted that the implement would fill a long felt want, and he advised them to take out patents in foreign countries, especially in Canada.

The men have been at work on the machine for almost two years, and a model has been constructed. It is a light draft, said to be adapted to any cultivation, especially corn. It is composed of parts easily obtainable and in the market, and is both simple and durable. Six disks, controlled by levers, cultivate the soil from the center of the rows toward the growing crop, three working to the right and three to the left, and with a small shovel cutting out the bulk left between the disk sections. The cultivator, built on the order of the Randall harrow, is five feet long and two feet in width and weighs 150 pounds. It is adjustable in width to the desire of the operator.

The machine will be placed on the market at the earliest possible date. Negotiations will more than likely be opened by the men with the local Chamber of Commerce for the formation of a company. In the event that no deal can be consummated, the inventors will seek aid outside of this city for the manufacture of the implement.—Chillicothe Gazette.

Anda E. Henkle Candidate For County Auditor

Presents to you the following extract from the report of state Examiner T. Q. Bowles:

"First. The records are exceptionally well kept.

"Second. The clerical work is excellent and the office is well systematized.

"Third. The Commissioners' Journal. This record is neatly kept in a type-written volume and is written up-to-date. The record of each meeting is signed by all the commissioners. This county has no commissioners' clerk, and the auditor acting as such.

"Fourth. Abstracts and Duplicates. The duplicates and abstracts of same for year 1910 were carefully audited. Each taxing district was added and checked to the abstract. The work was carried to the settlement sheets and the distribution of the taxes collected checked to the various districts entitled to share in it. No errors were found and the work appears perfect. The February and August settlements were checked. The work on the duplicates is worthy of commendation. The work in the Auditor's office is carefully and thoroughly done. Mr. Henkle's idea of conducting the Auditor's office is that of a modern business man.

"Result: System, neatness, no confusion.

"This official attends to the duties of his office and furthermore, he understands what those duties are.

I am asking for your support at the Primary Election August 11, 1914, for renomination to the office of County Auditor.

I am grateful for your past support and trust that my services will merit a renomination and election.

BELGIANS FORCE GERMANS TO ASK FOR ARMISTICE

Kaiser's Army Renews Attack on the Belgian Forts This Morning Only to Meet Defeat and Disaster at Hands of Determined Defenders.

WHOLE BATTALION KILLED BY MINES

Twelve Hundred Wounded Are Picked Up—Forts Remain Intact and Belgians Confident—24-Hour Armistice Asked.

Liege—via London, Aug. 7.—The Tenth German Army Corps, reinforced by cavalry, attacked Liege last night. They crossed a zone which had been mined and the mines were exploded by the Belgians. A whole battalion of Germans was killed while twelve hundred wounded were picked up. Not a single fort has fallen into the hands of the Germans.

Six Germans, pretending to be English, made their way to the Governor's office this morning. They were killed. All reports of the fighting at Liege agree that the German infantry advances in masses holding to absolutely close order. This resulted in heavy casualties.

Brussels, Aug. 7.—News from Liege says that the fortress still holding out. It is being bombarded by heavy shells but is still undamaged, while the Belgian fire is wreaking havoc among the Germans. It is reported that the French forces are increasing from several directions. All the forts around Liege are reported as being intact.

Paris, August 7.—Official reports received here say the German troops have entered the Belgian city of Liege but have not been able to take the forts. Fighting of the most violent character took place in the streets. The Belgian troops have captured 27 German cannon.

London, August 7.—A dispatch from Brussels to the Exchange Telegraph Company today says the German troops attacking Liege have asked for an armistice of 24 hours.

JAPS ACTIVE AND WARLIKE

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 7.—The Reserve army officers have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for a possible mobilization. A flying squadron of seven cruisers has been organized with Prince Fushimi in command. The battleship squadron has been increased to eight vessels.

AMERICANS SAFE

Washington, August 7.—Charge Hubscher of the Swiss legation told Secretary Bryan Switzerland would today issue a proclamation of neutrality. The Charge stated that Americans pouring into Switzerland from France, Germany and Italy, and especially Vienna, were safe.

CRUISER IN U. S. PORT

San Francisco, August 7.—The British cruiser Rainbow, put in here today. Collector Davis sent out boarding officers to learn her intentions.

Under the neutrality laws she can take on only sufficient coal to make another port and she may not remain here more than 24 hours.

The Cavalry of Germany

The cavalry force of Germany, comprising approximately 100 regiments, numbers about 70,000 men. The private soldiers carry lances, which stand upright when the troopers are in saddle. A carbine is slung in a bucket beside the saddle.

25,000 DIE AT LIEGE

LONDON, AUGUST 7.—AN EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH COMPANY'S DISPATCH FROM BRUSSELS SAYS THE GERMAN TROOPS AT LIEGE ACKNOWLEDGED A LOSS OF 25,000 MEN. THE AGENCY SAYS THIS STATEMENT IS OFFICIAL. ANOTHER DISPATCH TO THE EXCHANGE TELEGRAPH COMPANY FROM BRUSSELS SAYS A FRENCH ARMY HAS NOW ENTERED BELGIUM AND HAS ADVANCED WELL INTO THE COUNTRY.

ENGLISH EYES ON FOODSTUFFS

By Associated Press.

London, August 7.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George informed the House of Commons that the government was considering the question of taking over the harvest throughout the British Isles.

ARRANGEMENTS NOT YET MADE

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 7.—Arrangements for the quiet funeral of Mrs. Wilson desired by the President and his family have not been made pending the arrival of Professor Stockton Axson, of Princeton university, who is on his way to Washington from Pendleton, Oregon.

Mrs. Wilson's body was kept today in the room where she died, in the southwest corner of the White House on the second floor, overlooking the Potomac. The President went into the room at midnight last night and again several times today and sat alone. No one disturbed him. Other members of the family went in from time to time, but even intimate friends were kept out. Every effort was made by his friends to divert the President's mind from his grief. Flowers began to arrive at the White House early and continued throughout the day. They were sent by people from all walks of life. Among messages of sympathy were those of Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell and of clergymen of all denominations and organizations of many kinds.

LACKS CONFIRMATION

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 7.—The State Department has no reports of the taking of Warsaw by the Germans. Officials attributed a rumor to that effect to an earlier dispatch which said the Russian general staff had decided not to defend the city.

MEXICO CITY IS IN PANIC

Washington, August 7.—General Carranza and Provisional President Carbajal have failed to agree on transferring power in Mexico and trouble is expected in Mexico City where the population is reported panic stricken. Constitutional forces are marching on the capital.

HOMEWARD BOUND

London, Aug. 7.—The White Star liner Celtic left Liverpool with nearly 2,000 passengers, of whom 1,000 are in the steerage. Latest advices are to the effect that it will take five days for Americans to be able to leave Switzerland and other points on the continent and arrive in England.

PRINCE WILL FIGHT

London, Aug. 7.—It is officially announced that the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne, has received a commission in the Grenadier Guards, and it is expected he will join his regiment at once and will accompany it for active service. His brother, Prince Albert, is aboard the Collingwood with the battle fleet in the North Sea.

Warring Nations Have Our Offer

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 7.—RECEIPT OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S OFFER OF GOOD OFFICES HAS BEEN ACKNOWLEDGED BY SOME OF THE WARRING NATIONS IN EUROPE BUT NONE OF THE RESPONSES CONSTITUTE ANYTHING IN THE NATURE OF A REPLY. OFFICIALS DO NOT KNOW WHETHER IT HAS BEEN RECEIVED IN GERMANY.

WAR BULLETINS

Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the British Admiralty, declared in the House of Commons there had not been any fighting or losses other than had been announced officially. This statement ensued on reports of a naval battle between German and British ships received from several sources, but the Admiralty refused information.

It was regarded as significant that the fishing fleets on the east coast of England were given permission to go out and fish.

Complete silence reigns as to military movements in both Germany and France, and it is assumed both armies are concentrating for decisive battles. No hint as to where they will come into contact has been given.

Liege, Belgium, was again attacked by German troops last night but was still holding out. The report of a German reverse there was denied in a dispatch from Berlin.

The German cruisers, Goeben and Breslau, obliged, owing to Italian neutrality, to leave San Salvatore, Sicily, have gone out to meet the British fleet. The commanders are said to have handed their wills to the German consul before departure.

A London newspaper report says the German Crown Prince has been seriously injured by an unidentified assailant.

A Finn sea captain on arriving at Stockholm reported the Russian navy bottled up at Helsingfors and the Russian ports of Libau and Reval to be burning after an attack by German vessels. No confirmation.

Many German merchant vessels were brought in to English ports today by British cruisers. The Holland-Lloyd steamer, Tubantia, with $2,500,000 in gold, from South America for the German bank in London, was also brought in.

French warships also captured several German merchant ships.

The French Premier appealed to the women of France to gather the wheat and wine crops.

Tokio reports the German squadron at Tsing Tau, China, hemmed in by the British war vessels.

The British tank steamer, San Wilfredo, is reported destroyed by a mine off Cuxhaven, Germany, and the British steamer, Kraigforth, was beached near Constantinople after contact with a mine.

Stories of discourtesy in Germany to the Dowager Empress of Russia are declared false by the German Foreign Office.

UNCLE SAM TAKES HAND

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 7.—Foreign merchant ships being converted for war purposes or carrying foreign reservists will not be permitted to clear from ports of the United States.

PRINCE ASSAULTED

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 7.—The Standard says it has heard from a reliable source that the German Crown Prince has been seriously injured by an unidentified assailant who, after inflicting grave wounds, escaped.

BREAK RECORDS IN ENLISTMENT

By Associated Press.

London, August 7.—The response to Field Marshal Kitchener's appeal for recruits for the British army surpasses anything in the memory of British military men. Huge crowds of all ages and all stations of life, silk-hatted men and poorly clothed laborers, stood in long lines all day in front of the recruiting stations awaiting their turn to go before the medical officers. Dr. Hans Plehn, correspondent of the German Telegraphic News Agency who had been placed under arrest, was released today after he had satisfied the police he was not a spy. He has decided to return to Germany. With the object of coordinating the system of giving assistance to traveling Americans and restoring order among the somewhat chaotic conditions an authoritative committee of American residents in London was formed today under official auspices.

ITALY DEFIES KAISER

By Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 7.—An Italian newspaper of this city says today that it has received a cable from Rome saying that it has been officially announced that Italy's answer to the German ultimatum was that Italy would remain neutral.

By Associated Press.

Messina, Sicily, Aug. 7.—The German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, sailed out of San Salvatore this morning under full steam with decks cleared for action in expectation of meeting the British fleet. The captains are said to have left their wills and personal property with the German Consul.

ABANDON ATTACK?

By Associated Press.

Brussels—via London, Aug. 7.—It is reported that the attacks on the Liege forts has been abandoned after a three days encounter. The German division has retired to the left of the River Meuse.

Le Peuple says the bombardment of Liege had caused six or seven fires in the city up to 7 o'clock last evening. The heaviest firing occurred yesterday afternoon. German officers then came to the city with a white flag and demanded the surrender of the place. They received a negative reply and the bombardment was resumed at 6 o'clock. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Belgium.

FRENCH VICTORIOUS

By Associated Press.

Paris, Aug. 7.—The Minister of War announces that French troops have occupied two small German towns in Alsace-Lorraine, just over the border.

DEFEAT KAISER ON SEA

English Warships Drive German Fleets to Seek Safety Near Coast of Holland, After Engaging Them on the High Seas.

SEEK HAVEN IN EAST NORTH SEA

Feeling Secure the British Fishing Schooners Begin Business, While Lords of the Sea Menace German Vessels—Other War News.

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 7.—The Admiralty announces that British coastwise shipping on the east coast is now safe because the British fleet has engaged the Germans on the high seas and the German fleet is now being chased toward the coast of Holland.

Travelers returning from the North Sea today reported that they had seen a German destroyer fleeing from two British cruisers. They believed the German ship to be on fire. Latest reports today say that the British and German fleets were in a heavy battle off the South Dogger Banks. It is now believed that the German fleet is completely hemmed in in the eastern side of the North Sea.

Stockholm, Aug. 7.—A Finnish sea captain who has arrived here reports that the Russian navy is bottled up at Helsingfors while Reval and Libau have been taken by the Germans after a furious battle and are burning. The report is not credited by the best informed here.

London, Aug. 7.—Among those killed when the British cruiser, Anthon, was sunk by a mine yesterday, were twenty German prisoners of war. The German steamer Tubantia, with $2,500,000 in gold aboard was brought into Plymouth today by warships.

Rome, Aug. 7.—A newspaper here says that the Austro-Hungarian warship, Taurus, has been driven into the harbor of Prendesi, where she is leaking.

Stockholm, Aug. 7.—The captains of two Swedish steamers report that a Russian cruiser is ashore near Hangoe, Finland.

LYNCH NEGROES

By Associated Press.

Monroe, La., August 7.—Preston Griffin and Charles Hall, negroes, were taken from the local city hall tower early today and hanged by a mob. Less than 24 hours before, Henry Holmes was lynched near here in connection with the same crime.

CAMP MEETING

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, August 7.—Plans have been completed for holding of the annual camp-meeting and business session of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists here, August 13 to 23. Sixty-five churches located in different cities will be represented by 1,000 members, while the daily attendance will be considerably larger. The encampment will be pitched on the campus of Mount Vernon Academy, a denominational institution.

BELGIANS MAKE BOLD STAND

London, Aug. 7.—The British fleet
has engaged the German fleet on the high seas. The British warships are reported to be driving the Germans
towards the Dutch coast.

There are persistent circumstantial reports of a naval fight in the North sea which suggest that the rumor has a basis of truth. Incoming fishing boats brought the first cohesive stories of fighting. The fishermen said they had seen a lively
scrap between two destroyers. After
that there was a succession of reports from east coast towns and that orders had been issued for the preparation of hospitals.

A ship owner at Whitby has announced that he has been informed
that a great battle has been fought
and nineteen German warships have
been sunk. The people of Hull, Harwich and Grimsby are convinced of the truth of this reported battle and
have been straining their eyes seaward, but have seen nothing.

There is great excitement all along
the east coast. Kirkwall reports tell
of prolonged firing to the eastward.
The Orkneys and Kirkcally make similar reports and say that the
firing appeared to be off the Firth of Forth. Official confirmation of these reports, however, is entirely lacking.

BATTLE RAGES AROUND LIEGE

Paris, Aug. 7.—Official announcement is made that the battle continues to rage around Liege. The German shell fire has reduced two of the Liege forts, but the Belgians continue
to resist with untiring energy.

The Germans were able to use
their light siege guns against the forts of Liege, which are thirty years
old. Two of them were silenced and
the German columns broke through.
The other forts are holding out. The

KAISER CALLS HIS SUBJECTS

Berlin, via London, Aug. 7.—The
emperor has issued an order to the German army and navy in which he
says:

"After forty-three years of peace I
call upon all Germans capable of bearing arms. We have to defend our most sacred possessions in father-
land and home against the reckless
assault of enemies on all sides of us.
That means hard fighting. I am confident that the ancient warlike
spirit still lives in the German people—that powerful, warlike spirit
which attacks the enemy wherever
it finds him, regardless of cost, and
which in the past has been the dread
and terror of our enemies.

"I have confidence in you, German soldiers—in each and all of you. I know, if needed, each and all of you
would die like heroes.
"Remember our great and glorious

Belgians are making a determined resistance before the city.

The situation at Liege, according to the latest dispatches, was as follows:

It seemed certain that the fortifications could not stop the German army, and the only question was
whether its advance could be delayed. The fortifications already had held it for thirty-six hours, and the fierce struggle the Germans had made
and would still have to make, it was believed, would compel them to pause
and revictual.

carrying Liege it will find itself confronted by an entrenched camp at Namur, at which the Belgians are preparing to make a stand as fierce as
that at Liege.

The Belgian army was brilliantly
fulfilling its task of delaying the German advance and it appeared certain
the German staff's plan of campaign
in Belgium would be hindered by the obstinate stand of the Belgians.

A French mine ship captured and
towed into Cherbourg a 5,000 ton
German steamer.

A slight skirmish occurred between
German and French troops at Norry-
Le-See, in Meurthe-et-Moselle. The Germans suffered a few casualties,
but there was no loss on the French
side.

Latest estimates of the German
casualties run as high as 8,000 men.
The invaders also are said to have
lost a large number of guns.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Although no responses had been received to the formal tender of good offices made by the United States to the warring powers in Europe, administration officials thought that, if not immedicalled on to play the role of mediator.

By placing itself on record the

FAYETTE HORSES TAKING ON FORM

Fayette horses have been making
quite creditable showing at the various race meets of the neighboring
county fairs during the past few days. Jessie J., the gray pacing
mare formerly owned by George Weaver, took fourth money in the slow pace at Xenia Thursday. She finished second in the first heat and was separately timed at 2:10 3/4. Jessie J. was sold by Mr. Weaver Wednesday to W. J. Galvin of Jamestown.
Leola McKinney, owned by C. W.
Mark, of this city, finished second in
all three heats of the trotting class
at Xenia Thursday making her best

circuit in 2:22 3/4. Sunday Johnson,
owned by C. H. Richards, of Washington C. H., won the 2:30 pace at Hillsboro Wednesday and made a record of 2:16 3/4. Harry D. Taylor's
Georgia Fly took second in the slow
trot at Hillsboro Wednesday.

On the entry lists of all nearby
county fairs are the names of Fayette horses as well as almost everywhere they are race meets to be found. Several Fayette equines will perform in the meets at Piketon and Leesburg next week.

Old Flower Favorites Returning

The old-fashioned flowers, the old standbys that came along year in and year out, to brighten the home and the garden before the professional florist raised and marketed the exquisitely beautiful and frail plants that now excite the wonder and strain the purse strings, are returning to popular favor.

Each year close observers will see the number of hollyhocks, marigolds, gladiolas, periwinkles, zinnias, sunflowers and the like increasing in the yards of the poorer classes and in the spacious grounds of the rich.

Folks are beginning to realize that man's older friends among the flowers are better able to stand the drought, the winds and the deluge, as one or the other extreme comes along, in the great out-of-door weather.

Nature constructed these sturdy flowers along lines which enable them to "go it alone" to take care of themselves in extremes of weather and in the fight with the insects. They do not require the care and attention that the plants man has refined by cultivation from the original stock, require.

The family can forget for a night or two to water the flowers, can be too busy once in a while to pull the encroaching grass and weeds from about the roots of these sturdy old flowers of nature and they will grow and bloom just the same. These old-time flowers lost in popular favor because they were too self-reliant, too independent and so abundantly able to take care of themselves that they grew everywhere and anywhere. They were in respect of persons or gardens—quite Democratic, if you please—with the result that they were soon regarded as too common and not difficult enough to possess. The original cost was not enough, the work of caring for them was not burdensome enough, and the chance of failure to have success in the flower garden was too remote to justify retaining the old-timers in popular favor.

After being passed by now for years they are returning to popular favor, people are tired out wasting time and money and effort trying to raise tender flowers out of doors which have about one chance in five of getting through the season successfully in this climate.

People have learned that nature's old-time flowers do better and look better out-of-doors—they are more in harmony with nature than the hot house creations.

Nature knows better after all what is more becoming to her than man does. Save the delicate posies for the hot houses but in the ground out-of-doors where nature rules, if nature is allowed to fashion the flowers, better success will mark the efforts of man to beautify the yards.

It is fine to see the radiant bloom of the old-time favorites in all the flower gardens both large and small.

Poetry For Today

BOX OF SMILES.

If I know where the box of smiles was kept,
No matter how large the key
Or strong the bolt, I would try so hard,
'Twould open, I know, for me;
Then over the land and the sea broad-cast,
I'd scatter the smiles to play.
That the children's faces might hold them fast
For many and many a day.

"If I knew of a box that was large enough
To hold all the frowns I meet,
I would like to gather them every one,
From nursery, school, and street;
Then folding and holding, I'd pack them in,
And, turning the monster key,
I'd hire a giant to drop the box
To the depths of the deepest sea."

WORTHY ASPIRANT FOR NOMINATION

We take advantage of this opportunity to call upon the Republican voters of Fayette county to support in the primary election the candidacy of Henry W. Jones for sheriff, a young man, self made, well known and universally respected—who has served as sealer of weights and measures since this important office was established and whose efficient record, kind and courteous handling of the difficult duties involved, has been the pride of scale owners and consumers alike.

In seeking promotion to the office of sheriff of Fayette county, Henry W. Jones is fully justified and we bespeak for him an administration at once creditable and satisfactory to an unusual degree, embodying at all times the same faithful service that has marked and distinguished his conduct of the office of sealer of weights and measures.

Mr. Jones is a native of Jasper township, having been born at Mill-edgeville August 12, 1872. He was left an orphan at the age of 7 months and was early thrown upon his own resources to earn his living and make his way in the world, which he did with commendable will. Mr. Jones was educated in the Creamer school near Spring Grove church and in Milledgeville schools. He grew into conscientious manhood, slow to anger, kind hearted, charitable and patient, with never a disparaging word against his fellow man. In this race Mr. Jones seeks the Republican nomination for sheriff on the same broad platform on which he has lived since his youth, treating every man with fairness and the respect he deserves, and uttering no cowardly word calculated to injure an opponent.

Every voter is entitled to know the man for whom he votes, which is the reason this story is told. Henry W. Jones will bear acquaintance and investigation. The more he is known the greater his support.

A vote for him for sheriff will not be misplaced, but will assist him to a well merited elevation and will approve of his exceedingly valuable pioneer labors as sealer of weights and measures in this county.

The duties of the position he now holds have been discharged without fear or favor and to the very best of his ability and he assures the voters of his party and the citizens of the whole county that, if he is so fortunate as to be nominated and elected to the office to which he aspires, he will uphold the laws of the land and exercise every energy at his command to properly execute the duties of that high office.

The primary election will be held next Tuesday and every voter in the county has a solemn duty to perform that day. Every man of legal age owes it to his country to participate and register his choice at the polls. In no other way can the will of the people be ascertained. Well wishes are splendid in their way, and Mr. Jones and his close friends will appreciate fully all helpful words and support given in his behalf, but on the day of election he needs votes. Come out and bring your friends that day, and make certain that Henry W. Jones wins the Republican nomination for sheriff.

FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS.

Examination of Fayette County

JULY 1912 TO JAN. 1914.

BY E. K. PARRETT, STATE EXAMINER.
A. E. HENKLE HAS SERVED AS AUDITOR DURING THE PERIOD OF THIS EXAMINATION.

RECORDS AND FILES

All records required to be kept by this office are kept in a MOST EXCELLENT MANNER, the greater portion being typewritten.

The Commissioner's journal, kept by the Auditor as clerk of that Board, IS EXCEPTIONALLY WELL KEPT, the subject matter set out in detail, and each action taken by the Commissioners indicated by proper headings in red, making a search of the records easy.

The files of all vouchers and other documents in the hands of the auditor are well kept and all properly docketed, and numbered to correspond with warrants issued.

SETTLEMENTS.

The settlements for the tax years 1911 and 1912 were handled by your examiners.

The several settlement sheets were checked and verified and the distributions followed forward into the ledger account of the taxing districts.

This department of the Auditor's work was found to be PRACTICALLY PERFECT, it being the practice in this office to recheck, verify, and PROVE EVERY STEP in the work from the making up of the Duplicate to the final distribution of the funds.

The highest commendation is due Auditor HENKLE and his efficient office force for their excellent work.

The above is from the State Examiner's report, and is offered to you for your consideration.

I am asking for your support at the Primary Election, August 11, 1914, for RENOMINATION to the Office of County Auditor.

I am grateful for your past support and trust that my services will merit a renomination and election.

Yours very truly,

ANDA E. HENKLE.

ICE COMPANY SUES THE WATER COMPANY

A suit of more than passing interest at the present time is that of the Washington Ice Company against the Washington Water Company, asking injunction and equitable relief. The suit was filed in Common Pleas court late Thursday evening, and is the outgrowth of the refusal of the Washington Water Company to furnish the Washington Ice Company with water. Rankin and Rankin represent the plaintiff.

After the refusal of the Water company had been fully established, the Ice Company sought relief in the courts.

The plaintiff states that the defendant has threatened to shut off the water which plaintiff claims the defendant is under contract to furnish, and that the defendant would, unless restrained, shut off the water. Plaintiff claims that under the defendant's contract with the city that plaintiff is entitled to an abundance of water so long as payment is made for same, and that the defendant has violated its contract with the city.

The restraining order asked by plaintiff was granted by Judge Carpenter, and the case will later be heard upon its merits.

The plaintiff charged that under a contract with the Water Company

the plaintiff had been using water for years, and that unless the supply was continued that it would seriously handicap the Ice company in obtaining water for the engines of the company and for other uses.

The action is based under sections eight and eleven of the Water company's contract with the city. These sections read in part:

"Section 8. To furnish an abundant supply of water to the party of the first part, and the inhabitants of said corporation for the purpose herein expressed, at all times during the continuance of this contract."

"Section 11.—To furnish an abundant supply of water in accordance Article 8 hereof, to private consumers, residing or having places of business or manufacture along any of the said pipe lines, or contiguous thereto, at all times during the continuance of this contract, etc."

The Water company is said to have taken steps to stop furnishing the Ice company with water until the threatened water famine is alleviated. The Ice company, it is stated, through Manager Baer, had promised to use as little water as possible if the water connection was not disturbed by the Water Company. The action was taken after the meter had been removed by the Water Company.

JUNIOR SECRETARY MAY BE EMPLOYED BY BOARD

The Board of Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. held a long session Thursday night and while the greater part of the developments have not been made public it is understood that a number of improvements and some repairing is contemplated.

It is said that the most important feature of the meeting was the consideration of the advisability of adding to the official corps of the institution, a junior secretary, whose duties will be to look after the junior department and to co-operate with General Secretary Patton in bringing the association work to a relative basis. Formerly there has been no junior department and this fact has caused no little confusion. Under the suggested system the juniors and seniors will be separated. They will have different parts of the building for their reading and recreation and will in no way come in contact with each other. The mingling of the juniors and seniors hitherto has given rise to much confusion. This fact has been realized long ago by institutions in other nearby cities, where the system of separate departments and department heads has been successfully maintained for years. A committee was appointed by the board to go over this matter carefully and to report at an early date.

With the birth of this new speculation naturally arises some little discussion as to who might be chosen to fill the important position as head of the new department, should it be created, and foremost among those mentioned is the name of Mr. R. F. Toops, principal of the Cherry Hill school, who has been acting general secretary in the interim between the resignation of former Secretary Ray F. Zaner and the succession of Mr. Walter Patton a few days ago. It is thought that in case the office is established a strong effort will be made to secure Mr. Toops for this post. Mr. Toops is a young man but one of much experience among the youngsters, as his present position will testify.

Other things that were decided by the board was the replenishing of the magazine department of the reading room, and the purchase of towels and sundry articles of need.

Another great item occupying the attention of the board is the membership question, but with a large membership committee constantly at work and with each succeeding day giving evidence of ever increasing success it is thought this matter will be handled to satisfaction. This is the time of the year when many of the memberships expire and the membership committee has taken it into its hands to see that these are renewed, besides increasing the roll. A strong meeting of this committee is to be held Monday evening and it is expected that all members be present as business of utmost importance will be gone over.

With the successful closing of the $25,000 clean-up campaign a few weeks ago and the subsequent expert financing under the supervision of Mr. William Worthington, the Y. M. C. A. is pushing to the fore as an independent institution. That it is making expenses is shown in the following report for the month just closed:

Receipts—Full memberships $109; senior memberships $119; boys membership $46; subscriptions 337.50; dormitory rent $105.20; educational department $90; miscellaneous $8.02; total receipts $614.72; balance from June $244.28; grand total $859. Expenditures—Salaries $190; heat $8.90; light $16.66; water $14.40; educational department $175; dormitory $43.50; office $39.48; total $588.96; balance on hand $270.04.

CARS MAY YET BE PUT ON ROAD

The D. T. & L. has not abandoned the plan of installing motor cars on the road, as announced several months ago.

The cars sent from the factory in New Jersey were wholly unfit for the kind of service desired, and the road decided to obtain larger and stronger cars.

The cars sent were too small and the motor was not strong enough. The kind originally considered had gasoline for fuel and was capable of carrying a heavy load at high speed for a great many miles.

CARRIERS GET SALARY BOOST

All rural carriers in Fayette county are rejoicing over an increase in salary which recently went into effect and as a result of the new order four of the rural carriers out of this city are now drawing the limit of $1200 per annum, while most of the others are drawing near that amount.

Under the new order all carriers covering 24 mile routes and handling 400 pieces of mail daily, receive $1,200 per annum for eight hours per day. Fayette county carriers are fortunate in handling the quantity of mail they do, as many adjoining county carriers will not be able to reach the $1200 limit.

As a result of the new order the carriers out of this city draw salaries as follows:

Nos. 1, 3, 4, 7, $1200; Nos. 2 and 5, $1188; No. 6, $1164; No. 8, $1176; No. 9, $1128; No. 10, $1068.

HAGLER REUNION OF NOTABLE PLEASURE

One of the oldest of Fayette county's families, with a large connection and bound together by family ties and affections almost clannish in character, the Hagler reunion held Thursday proved one of pre-eminent pleasure and interest.

The beautiful Howat grove was an ideal place for the gathering and by the noon hour over a hundred had assembled, coming from Boston, Mass., from Columbus, Loveland, Wilmington, Xenia, Jamestown and all over this county. The oldest member of the family was Mr. Clemmens, of Jamestown, ninety-four years of age, and the little four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. H. Ballard had the distinction of being the youngest.

It was purely a social day, with that exchange of reminiscences and experiences and that bond of sympathetic interests only possible to such a gathering.

Adjectives fail to do justice to the sumptuous picnic dinner that weighted down the tables and left them with ample provision for another hundred.

Before the breaking up of the reunion photographer Campbell took the entire group.

Engineer Rodgers was at supper when the alarm came in, and some little delay resulted until he could reach the motor truck, Assistant Engineer Leach being in Dayton at the time.

MARRIED 34 YEARS DIVORCE IS ASKED

Nannie C. Smith against J. W. Smith is the style of a divorce suit filed in Common Pleas court late Thursday afternoon.

The plaintiff, who is represented by Post & Reid, states that she married the defendant September 30, 1880, and have two children. Gross neglect of duty is charged by the plaintiff, who claims that the defendant for more than three years past has failed to provide common necessities of life.

On July 17, 1914, the defendant left the plaintiff, according to the petition. Charges of extreme cruelty and threats of personal violence against herself and children, also are made by the plaintiff, who asks for divorce and other relief.

The climax to the feast came when Miss Browning brought out an angel food cake, proving anew her skill in present plans are carried out the work of dredging Paint creek to deepening the channel throughout the county may be taken up within the next year, earlier, and when finished the channel will be of uniform depth so that no stagnant pools will form, and the channel will be unobstructed at any point, and the flood danger reduced to the minimum.

It is stated that within a short time the plan of dredging the creek in order to give it a free channel, will be taken up with the county commissioners, not only of this county, but of adjoining counties where the stream touches.

Under the new flood legislation a petition signed by 50 persons owning property along the banks of a stream may be presented to the commissioners, and it will then be necessary to proceed with the work of clearing the channel.

The agitators back of the movement claim that by the dredging process thousands of loads of choice gravel would thus be obtained for road building purposes in the county, and that the gravel would pay much of the cost of cleaning out the creek.

The movement originates in this city, it is said, and if the creek is dredged, the channel through the city will be free from obstruction, and no stagnant pools will exist.

On one hand it is claimed that if the channel is deepened so that no pools exist, that the creek must either flow or, in dry weather, be completely dry.

If the plan is carried out on as large a scale as originally planned, more than one stream may be included in the cleaning out process.

NATION MOURNS WITH PRESIDENT

Wife of Chief Executive Passes Away at White House.

FAMILY AT HER BEDSIDE

Mrs. Ellen Axson Wilson Was Woman of Many Attainments and Took Active Interest in Slum Work at National Capital—President and Three Daughters Prostrated by Bereavement.

Washington, Aug. 7.—With President Wilson and her three daughters at her bedside, Mrs. Ellen Axson Wilson, wife of the president and "first lady of the land," died at the White House.

The president was prostrated. His three bereaved daughters were also broken with grief. Secretary Tumulty announced the death of Mrs. Wilson.

Death resulted from brights disease, from which she had been a sufferer since she came to the White House. Recently this had been aggravated by a general nervous breakdown, which began when she was injured by a fall on the marble floor of the White House in February and was accelerated by the strenuous social season and activity in social settlement work and other humanitarian endeavors.

Shortly before her death Mrs. Wilson was cheered by the announcement that the senate had passed the Johnson bill abolishing slums in the capital, for which she had worked zealously last fall.

She had told the president she believed she could go more cheerfully if she knew the bill was passed. The president through Secretary Tumulty communicated Mrs. Wilson's wish to congress, and the task of enacting the bill with extraordinary haste was undertaken. As soon as the president learned of the passage of the bill by the senate he hastened to carry the news to the sick room.

Some time after this, when the president was absent from the sick room for a few minutes, Mrs. Wilson sent for Dr. Cary T. Grayson and said to him:

Solicitous For Husband.

"Doctor, if I go away, promise me you will take good care of my husband."

It was her last speech of many words. In a few minutes she sank into a stupor and during the afternoon rallied only enough strength to speak in monosyllables.

Mrs. Wilson was Ellen Louise Axson, the daughter of the Rev. Samuel Axson and Margaret Jane (Poit) Axson. She was born at Savannah, Ga., and was educated at the Woman's college at Rome, Ga., and later studied at the Art Students' league in New York.

Mrs. Wilson was married to Woodrow Wilson on June 24, 1885, at New York.

old home in Savannah. Her parents were dead at the time, but she went back to Savannah to be married for sentimental reasons. Mr. Wilson courted Miss Axson while she was at Rome, Ga., where she was known as one of the most beautiful women of the south. Mrs. Wilson sprang from a long line of Presbyterian preachers, who had lived in the south. Her paternal grandfather was a distinguished clergyman in Savannah and her grandfather on her mother's side was the Rev. Nathan Hoyt, for many years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Athens, Ga. Her father was pastor of a church at Rome, Ga., when Mr. Wilson won her hand. Mr. Wilson was at that time practicing law in Atlanta, Ga. He escorted Miss Axson the first evening they met and had seen her only eleven times when they became engaged.

The year they were married Mr. Wilson accepted a professorship of history and political economy at Bryn Mawr college, where as the wife of the young educator Mrs. Wilson quickly attracted attention by her ready wit and her faculty for charming entertainments. Mrs. Wilson's brother, Stockton Axson, is a professor of English history in Princeton university. The only other relatives of Mrs. Wilson who are living are the children of Randolph Axson, her father's brother. Of these B. Palmer Axson is living in Savannah, Randolph J. K. Axson and Lella and Carrie Bell Axson in Atlanta, and Mrs. Legare Walker in Summerville, S. C.

After her marriage Mrs. Wilson divided her time between household duties and painting, an art which she had developed at the Art Students' league in New York city. In painting Mrs. Wilson showed considerable skill, producing several canvasses which have been put on exhibition in New York city and elsewhere.

While not an avowed suffragette, Mrs. Wilson thoroughly believed that a higher destiny awaits women.

Soon after her appearance in Washington Mrs. Wilson became actively interested in the welfare movement in that city and made personal excursions to the slums and alleys of the national capital in an effort to gain first hand information and to promote reforms. She was greatly interested too in the conditions under which young women worked in the government departments.

Mrs. Wilson took a keen pleasure in the White House gardens. She planned them and laid them out herself, and it is a matter of daily comment to persons familiar with Washington that these gardens never looked as beautiful as they do today.

Mrs. Wilson was honorary president of the Southern Industrial Educational society, of the Woman's National Civic association and many other societies. She was a member of the Association of Women Painters and Sculptors and has exhibited landscape paintings in the National academy, New York, and the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts and at the Art Institute at Chicago.

She leaves beside her husband three daughters, Margaret, who from now on will be the mistress of the White House; Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury; and Mrs. Frances Rowes Sayre.

The only other wife of a president to die in the White House was Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, who passed away in 1891.

The president, without sleep for more than thirty-six hours and weighed down by the heavy burdens growing out of the European war, had been under a tremendous strain. He has borne up bravely.

TENNESSEE OFF WITH MILLIONS IN BRIGHT GOLD

New York, Aug. 7.—The armored cruiser Tennessee, carrying about $5,500,000 for the relief of stranded Americans, steamed away from

Tompkinsville. At the last minute messages were going aboard the cruiser to Captain Decker and to Assistant secretary of the Navy Breckinridge, the import of which was not revealed. Between the Tennessee and the Florida, lying a half mile away, the Adoria was twirling signals even after the traveler had started down the bay.

The bankers of the city did not send the $8,000,000 arranged for, for two reasons, it was said. One was that arrangements for cable transfer of money via France and England would ease the situation for Americans with letters of credit in the two capitals, and the other was that the insurance men insisted on a premium of one-half of 1 per cent for ordinary sea risks.

HARBORS MINED

Rome, Aug. 7.—News has been received here to the effect that the Austrian harbors of Pola and Trieste are mined.

An Austrian fleet is cruising in the Adriatic and is reported to be trying to make a neutral port to escape British warships.

The people of Trieste are panic-stricken, expecting that the port will be bombarded.

PRINCE CAPTURED

Copenhagen, Aug. 7.—Prince Aage, nephew of King Christian of Denmark, was arrested as a spy by German troops on the frontier.

ENGLISH CRUISER VICTIM OF MINE

Amphion Sinks on Dutch Coast.

131 LIVES ARE LOST

Captain and 151 Members of Crew Rescued.

London, Aug. 7.—The British cruiser Amphion was sunk by striking a mine on the coast of Holland and 131 lives were lost. The admiralty made the following announcement:

"The Amphion sank after striking a mine. Paymaster Gedge and 130

men were lost. The captain and 16 officers and 135 men were saved."

Captain Fox, who was in command of the Amphion, was a midshipman on board the British warship Calhoun, the only warship which escaped destruction in the terrific Samoa tornado of 1889.

A previous report said that the German mine layer, Koenigin Luise, probably had placed some mines before she was sunk by the British torpedo boat Lance.

The British torpedo boat destroyer Lance was the hero of the first naval engagement in the present war, sinking the Hamburg-American line steamer Koenigin Luise, which had been fitted out as a mine layer.

The Lance fired only four shots. The first destroyed the bridge of the steamer, the third and fourth tore away the stern, and the Koenigin Luise sank in six minutes.

The Lance rescued twenty-eight of the German crew. Several were wounded. Two of them each lost an arm and four others each had a leg shot away. None of the Lance's crew was injured.

The Koenigin Luise was caught laying mines some sixty miles from Har-

ITALY'S ATTITUDE FULLY EXPLAINED

London, Aug. 7.—The Italian ambassador has asked that publicity be given to the following statement:

"Italy's neutrality was not merely a matter of self-interest, but was strictly in accord with the letter and spirit of her obligations under the terms of the triple alliance. However unpopular a war on the side of Germany and Austria might have been for Italy, she would have undertaken such a war rather than break her pledged word."

The ambassador then refers to the blue book containing the evidence of all diplomatic negotiations to prove that Italy had made many earnest efforts to maintain peace, in which efforts she was in complete sympathy with Great Britain. He concludes by saying that it was not within Italy's power to avert a rupture.

ROB POSTOFFICE

Dayton, Aug. 7.—The postoffice was robbed by a lone man, who climbed through a rear window. Two clerks and the wife of one were held at bay by one automatic revolver in the robber's hands and forced to go into the vault. The door was then locked and the money order department looted. About $2,000 loot was secured.

RUSSIAN NAVY

WOEFULLY WEAK

Only Four Battleships Capable of Effective Work.

OTHERS ARE OBSOLETE.

Handicapped Also by Inexperienced Sailors—Has Never Recovered From Japanese War—Now Building Many New Ships In All Classes—Armament Is Poor.

EVER since the disastrous war with Japan the Russian navy has been considered to be of little value by the other powers. Until recently very little was done toward building up the sea defenses of the czar's empire, but at the present time there are four super-dreadnoughts building, seven dreadnoughts, eight armored cruisers, six cruisers, forty-five destroyers and eighteen submarines, a total of eighty-eight vessels in course of construction, or almost twice as many as any other country has planned.

Ships Ready for Use.

The actual number of boats now in readiness for use is as follows:

Dreadnoughts	0
Other battleships	13
Armored cruisers	6
Cruisers	8
Destroyers	36
Torpedo boats	42
Submarines	31
Total	195

The boats are manned by 52,400 sailors, the majority of whom are experienced handsmen who know very little of present day naval warfare. Russia has a very large reserve list, which is drawn as follows:

First—All the reservists of twenty-three whole governments and of seventy-one districts in fourteen other governments.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ON THE MARCH.

Second.—Part of the reservists of nine districts of four governments.

Third.—The naval reservists in sixty-four districts of twelve Russian governments and one Finnish government.

Fourth.—The time expired Cossacks of the territories of Don, Kuban, Terek, Astrakhan, Orenburg and Ural.

Fifth.—A corresponding number of reservist officers of the medical and veterinary services, in addition to needful horses, wagons and transport services in the governments and districts thus mobilized.

Guns of the Navy.

The standard guns in the Russian fleet are as follows:

The twelve inch of 40 calibers; weight, fifty-nine tons; muzzle velocity, 2,500 foot seconds; muzzle energy, 32,000 foot tons. This piece has a nominal penetration of fifteen and one-half inches Krupp cemented at 3,000 yards with capped A. P. shell, the same as that of the United States Mark 111 ten inch, built for the Washington class. It is mounted in the old battleship Czaravitch. For the Borodino class a sixty-four ton twelve inch has been designed, but it is doubtful whether it exists as yet. It has the same velocity (service), but fires a 1,200 pound projectile instead of a 732 pound one, and it has a correspondingly increased energy. The nominal velocity is 3,000 foot seconds.

The Poltava Class.

The Poltava class, the Sissoi Veliky and all other battleships carrying twelve inch guns, down to and including the Sinope, carry a 35 caliber twelve inch gun. Its weight is fifty-six tons; its initial velocity, 1,942 foot second (service); energy, 19,200 foot tons; shell, 732 pounds. It is, of course, an old type gun. Its penetration is for a twelve inch gun very small. The velocity is poor, and the piece is considerably inferior to the twelve inch guns of other powers. The rate of fire of this piece is slow.

A more powerful piece and a better gun is the ten inch of 45 caliber, carried by the Perovskiy class and the Apraksin and Rostislav.

The Gangut Class.

The only really effective boats now in service are the four battleships of the Gangut class. They are the Gangut, Sevastopol, Petropavlovsk and Poltava. These boats are 590 feet long and have a displacement of 23,000 tons. The armament is as follows: Twelve 12 inch guns in pairs in six turrets, sixteen 4.7 inch 50 caliber guns, eight machine guns. Torpedo tubes, four submerged, one on either beam and one forward and one aft.

The next class of battleships are very much smaller, poorly armed and equipped and generally inefficient and ineffective. In the next class are some of the boats which saw service in the Japanese war and have been raised, done over and slightly modernized. The fact that these boats were in service nearly ten years ago and are still being used shows the demoralized condition of the Russian navy. One of the interesting ships in the Baltic fleet is the Czaravitch, which escaped from the Japanese fleet at Port Arthur by running into a Chinese port, from which she was released after the Russo-Japanese war was over. Rear Admiral Withoff, in command of the Russian fleet, was killed by a Japanese shell which struck the bridge of the Czaravitch. During the early part of the fight the main fire of the Japanese was centered on the Czaravitch.

FARM RESIDENCE BURNED TO GROUND

Early this afternoon the Simon Hidy farm house, occupied by John Butz, on the Sugar Creek road, burned to the ground and also an automobile shed nearby.

The farm residence was one of the handsomest in that section and beautifully located on a hill overlooking the creek. The barn and other outbuildings were saved.

Mr. Butz was away from home, and his wife discovered the flames bursting from the roof. Having no telephone Mrs. Butz ran to the Henry Minton residence, the closest home to them, and through the Mintons the neighbors were summoned.

The fire had made such headway before help reached the house that it was impossible to save anything but a small part of the furniture and the outbuildings.

It is supposed that the fire caught from the flue.

Mr. Butz carried no insurance.

MANY THOUSANDS ATTEND FAYETTE-MADISON PICNIC

The annual Farmers' picnic of Fayette and Madison, was again carried through with tremendous success Thursday in the magnificent Reid grove at Bookwalter.

It is always an anticipated event of the year, and brings together a great gathering from all over both counties to enjoy a day of reunion and visiting together with the program and entertainment planned by the committee.

While the excessive heat and dust interfered somewhat with the attendance, the crowd was estimated at 5000 or more, the extent of the grove accommodating it so easily that it was hard to place an estimate.

In the morning there was a ball game, Bookwalter winning against Bloomingburg by a score of 3 to 0.

The noon hour was devoted to visiting and picnic dinners, notable among the dinners the one which is annually served by the wives of the committeemen to the speakers of the day, the band and fortunate friends. The dinner of Thursday more than equaled the established reputation of the past, being well worthy of Hon. S. D. Fess's encomium as a "wonderful repast."

Throughout the day the Milledgeville band entertained the people with splendid music and there was a second ball game in the afternoon.

The committeemen always aim to secure notable speakers for the afternoon's program and had been most fortunate in securing Hon. S. D. Fess, congressman of the Sixth district, and J. H. Newman, state librarian of Columbus.

Both addresses were listened to with absorbed interest.

Mr. Newman's address teemed with helpful suggestions for the ambitious boy and girl and the ready wit and spontaneity of the speaker entertained while it inspired.

People packed around the speaker's stand to hear the popular congressman. Introducing his speech with stories that delighted the crowd, Congressman Fess took up the United States as the great nation of achievements, the one country where nothing was needed but brain and brawn for accomplishment.

The interest of his address centered in his presentation of the war outlook. He said in part: "It is almost a time to weep. All Europe is standing today in a world conflict. If we can stay out we will be the happiest nation on earth, but to stay out will be a difficult problem.

"For the first time in the history of the world all the great powers of the world but the United States are engaged in conflict. Think of the hundreds of thousands of the poor of Europe who will die of starvation in six months.

"It is not the time to enter into the causes of the war, but the time for a Gladstone or a Lincoln to arise to lead the nations back to peace.

"The President of the United States has tendered his offices to bring this about. There could be but one outcome to such a war—annihilation—probably the annihilation of Germany.

"We fear the results, for Germany is today the center of the most advanced schools in the world. New discoveries in science are due to Germany. From Berlin university have come startling discoveries. Six of the most marvelous demonstrations I ever saw were perfected in this university.

"If the war isn't stopped it will be fought on the sea and under the sea, on the land and in the air.

"War is here! How long will it last? Experts say there is a possibility that it will last two years. Who is going to feed famished Europe?

"We can feed our nation without buying anything abroad. We are the richest nation on the globe. Great Britain would starve in 21 days if we did not step in."

Congressman Fess strongly advocated the building up of a merchant marine. "Today 92 per cent of the merchandise of the world is carried under a foreign flag and today the trade of the earth is swept from the sea by this war. In my judgment Uncle Sam ought to go to England, Germany, France and Russia, purchase their best steam ships, raise over them the American flag and carry the trade of this country. This is our opportunity to establish a great merchant marine to make our nation as great on sea as it is on land."

The speaker expressed himself as fearful of the measure just passed by which foreign vessels will be engaged in merchant marine service under the protection of the American flag. In the stress of battle he foresees a possibility that the American flag floating over an English ship may be fired upon by Germany, or vice versa, and the United States become involved.

The address of welcome was presented by President McChesney and recitations by Doris Klever and Glen Bland and a reading by Miss Lois Hankins added to the pleasure of the program.

NEW DISC PLOW JUST PATENTED

Pronounced by experts of the patent offices at Washington, D. C., as being the best they have ever seen in its line, and highly recommended by a large number of prominent farmers of this county, a one-horse disc cultivator, invented and patented by Phillip Foltz and William F. Nolze, of this city, promises to be a great success. The patent papers, arranged for by Mayor Cahill, were granted on July 13, 1914, and on Saturday the inventors were advised of the granting of the patent by Royal E. Burnam, patent attorney. In his communication the attorney predicted that the implement would fill a long felt want, and he advised them to take out patents in foreign countries, especially in Canada.

The men have been at work on the machine for almost two years, and a model has been constructed. It is a light draft, said to be adapted to any cultivation, especially corn. It is composed of parts easily obtainable and in the market, and is both simple and durable. Six disks, controlled by levers, cultivate the soil from the center of the rows toward the growing crop, three working to the right and three to the left, and with a small shovel cutting out the bulk left between the disk sections. The cultivator, built on the order of the Randall harrow, is five feet long and two feet in width and weighs 150 pounds. It is adjustable in width to the desire of the operator.

The machine will be placed on the market at the earliest possible date. Negotiations will more than likely be opened by the men with the local Chamber of Commerce for the formation of a company. In the event that no deal can be consummated, the inventors will seek aid outside of this city for the manufacture of the implement.—Chillicothe Gazette.

Anda E. Henkle Candidate For County Auditor

Presents to you the following extract from the report of state Examiner T. Q. Bowles:

"First. The records are exceptionally well kept.

"Second. The clerical work is excellent and the office is well systematized.

"Third. The Commissioners' Journal. This record is neatly kept in a type-written volume and is written up-to-date. The record of each meeting is signed by all the commissioners. This county has no commissioners' clerk, and the auditor acting as such.

"Fourth. Abstracts and Duplicates. The duplicates and abstracts of same for year 1910 were carefully audited. Each taxing district was added and checked to the abstract. The work was carried to the settlement sheets and the distribution of the taxes collected checked to the various districts entitled to share in it. No errors were found and the work appears perfect. The February and August settlements were checked. The work on the duplicates is worthy of commendation. The work in the Auditor's office is carefully and thoroughly done. Mr. Henkle's idea of conducting the Auditor's office is that of a modern business man.

"Result: System, neatness, no confusion.

"This official attends to the duties of his office and furthermore, he understands what those duties are.

I am asking for your support at the Primary Election August 11, 1914, for renomination to the office of County Auditor.

I am grateful for your past support and trust that my services will merit a renomination and election.

Yours very truly,

MILLING COMPANY RESUMES BUSINESS

The Washington Milling Company Thursday resumed operations after obtaining new parts for the engine in record-breaking time.

It was first believed that it would be impossible to resume work before Saturday, owing to the seriousness of the break.

However, the new parts were cast Wednesday night and within a remarkably short time the engine was in condition to resume work.
